FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CHARLESTON, IL --An organ recital will be held at Eastern Illinois University on Friday, April 10, at 8 p.m. in Dvorak Concert Hall.

Dr. Clyde Holloway will present the concert as part of a library symposium, "Academic Libraries: Their Rich Heritage," sponsored by Booth Library.

Holloway is Professor of Music at the Shepherd School of Music, Rice University, and Professor of Music and artist-in-residence at Houston Baptist University. He also serves as organist of Christ Church Cathedral, Houston.

Holloway, who holds bachelor and master degrees in music, studied at the Amsterdam Conservatory in the Netherlands under a Fulbright Scholarship. In 1974, he received the Doctor of Sacred Music degree from Union Theological Seminary.

He has given concerts in the United States, Mexico, Europe and the West Indies. The Miami Herald reviewed one of this performances this way:

"To some listeners, a concert of organ music may seem like an invitation to aural fatigue. Clyde Holloway's recital quickly dispelled this notion. A well-chosen and well-played program can be varied enough to hold the interest of the audience throughout, and this is just what he offered."
